

ELAYO | Empower Latino Youth

Please join the Health Equity Institute at San Francisco State University in partnership with the California Latinas for Reproductive Justice for a conversation on the Empower Latino Youth (ELAYO) Project.

- ◇ A research, training, and advocacy project that supports Latino youth to achieve their educational aspirations while ensuring their sexual and reproductive health and rights.

WHAT'S GOING ON?

We will be viewing and discussing Cariño - a short documentary which addresses the challenges Latino parents can face when discussing sexuality and sexual health and well-being with their children. The film shares stories and tools on how to bridge the communication gaps and strengthen social support as parents connect with other parents, youth, and health educators.

The film will be followed by a brief bilingual presentation of findings from the ELAYO Project.

WHEN: Tuesday, March 11, 2014

TIME: 12:30 - 2:00 PM

WHERE: YWCA
E. 340 beach street
Watsonville, CA 95076

* Food and refreshments will be provided

 HEALTH EQUITY INSTITUTE
for Research, Practice & Policy

SAN FRANCISCO
STATE UNIVERSITY

California Latinas for Reproductive Justice